Reflections

Through the turmoil and confusion that life is, pleasant, eternal, unchanged memories remain. Time cannot change their radiance or beauty but only makes them more worth remembering with age and experience. A memory may be shared but never truly given. This yearbook is dedicated to the student body in hopes that some of your cherished memories have been reflected in the 1973 Chieftain.

Friends And Happiness Make

Hopes and dreams are a large part of the students' efforts at Cobre High. Due to the endeavors of fellow students, friends, teachers, and administrators, Cobre students find school life varied, fun, and even challenging. Cecilia Delgado, one of Cobre's seniors, takes advantage of one of many references in the school library. Cafeteria workers Sal Armijo, Olivia Aguirre, and Mary Lucero take 'five.' Delia Martinez demonstrates her talents at blowing a bubble which resulted in failure. Students mingle around the campus during class breaks.

This year Los Amigos held what was supposed to be a "tamer" initiation, but wasn't. Forty new members joined the club.

The Christmas season found the members busy with the Christmas basket, in the form of an adobe hacienda, complete with Señor and Señorita dolls. TRACES: A Time To Remember All

Cherished Experiences With Someone

Couples danced among the outdoor garden scenes of "Traces" to the music of Southwest from El Paso. Memory books were passed among the tables as couples hoped to capture the night's bliss into a lasting memory. Adding to the romantic floral atmosphere and gaiety were refreshments of punch and cookies. Joey Parra and Ernest Venegas were proclaimed queen and king by Debbie Schroeter, Master of Ceremonies. The court included juniors Sandra Udero and Raul Martinez: Denise Bleak and Bobby Muniz. Senior members of the court were Elma Espinosa and Randy Reiss: Rhonda Porter and Davy Munoz. The crown bearers were Richard Delgado and Debra Patterson.

The 1972-73 school year was an important one for seniors as they prepared for upcoming graduation with great anticipation. Announcements had to be ordered, and cap and gown measurements had to be taken. Class officers presided over class meetings in which important details for graduation were decided upon. Among these were the decision to follow with tradition and hold baccalaureate services and to have commencement exercises in the gymnasium. Several expenses were incurred through preparations for graduation day, and seniors worked hard to meet these expenses. Seniors sold homemade goods during two concession weeks. A dance and concert by the WNMU Stage Band was sponsored by the Class of '73 and the annual faculty-student basketball game was also sponsored by the seniors. The seniors also participated in the annual painting of the "C."
